Alien Tea Party: Monday 18th December

12.12.23

Dear Families,

The aliens from Planet Binbag (aka Planet Lovebag) have been granted permission by their evil overlord to have an alien tea party (see attached invitation). Having read about the fun which was had by the alien community on Planet Zumzee in our DT story this term, it seemed only right to end the term with a similar celebration. The aliens can wear their outfits from the Christmas performance or party garb. We will be making food for the party during the morning including floating pizzas and quivering blue gloop, before the fun begins after lunch. There will be games, dancing and singing as well as the obvious eating! Having worked so hard collecting stories, the aliens deserve to party hard before the Christmas holidays.

If you have any questions, please direct these to the evil alien overlord via the school office.

Many thanks,

Jessica Ferguson
